

Cookies Policy

This policy (hereinafter the "Policy") aims to inform you about the way we, as data controller, collect your Personal Data through the "cookies" or "tracers" present on our Site, which can be consulted from the following address: <https://www.eitmanufacturing.eu/>

I ) WHAT IS A COOKIE?

A cookie is a small text file deposited on a terminal (Computer, Smartphone, Tablet or any device allowing a connection), when visiting the pages of a site.

In general, a site may use cookies for multiple purposes, either for information purposes:

- Information relating to your navigation between our pages to adapt it to the contents viewed by you and to display our Service to your terminal in order to improve your navigation;
  - To store information relating to a previously completed form, or relating to products, services or information from our Service;
  - To personalise our content and advertising according to the User's interests;
  - To establish statistics and audience measurements on the use of our Site
  - Allow you to interact and share on social networks with which you already have a user account;
  - To optimise the distribution and evaluate the effectiveness of the advertising messages or the native messages of the digital communication that we send you.
  - Connecting Web services APIs to all native applications and/or to those of the site editor's partners in order to provide the services requested by the user and to offer content of various kinds.
- We comply with the joint provisions of the GDPR, the e-Privacy Directive, the Loi informatique et libertés, and the new guidelines of the CNIL dated 17 September 2020 regarding the cookies and or tracers we use.

II) UNDERSTAND THE PURPOSE OF OUR COOKIE BANNER:

We only use strictly necessary cookies:

- To the operation of the site,

Or

- The provision of an online communication service at the express request of the user.

These cookies are considered to be of a functional nature for accessing the service, or providing a service to you.

In application of the provisions of article 82 of the Lil law interpreted in the light of the CNIL guidelines of 17/09/2020, these cookies are not subject to the user's consent but the user must receive clear prior information on :

- The functional nature of these cookies,
- The purpose of the processing
- Their shelf life,

A general summary of the information we owe you has been delivered to you by an interactive information banner managed by our CMP which welcomed you on your first visit to our pages to inform you that our cookies :

- Are functional in nature,
- That they are not subject to the principle of obtaining your consent.

III) FOR YOUR PERFECT UNDERSTANDING WE PRESENT HEREAFTER THE GENERAL LIST OF FUNCTIONAL COOKIES:

- Tracers retaining the choice expressed by users on the deposit of tracers ;
- Tracers intended for authentication to a service, including those intended to ensure the security of the authentication mechanism, for example by limiting robotic or unexpected access attempts;
- Tracers intended to keep track of the contents of a shopping cart on a commercial site or to invoice the user for the product(s) and/or service(s) purchased;
- User interface customisation trackers (e.g. for language choice or service layout), where such customisation is an intrinsic and expected feature of the service;
- Tracers for load balancing of equipment contributing to a communication service;
- Tracers allowing paying sites to limit free access to a sample of content requested by users (predefined quantity and/or over a limited period);

From the list above, we use cookies that are strictly necessary for the operation of our site, as summarised in the table below.

These are therefore set by default and are not subject to your consent.

We do not use any other cookies or trackers or fingerprint your browser.

That is, we do not generate a unique identifier for you from your browser's fingerprint via "fingerprinting", which is a method of collecting all the data a site can obtain when you visit one of our content pages using the https protocol in order to show you targeted advertisements based on your requests.

If we were to change our internal data management policy towards a marketing approach we would change our information policy and you would be informed of this through our cookie banner, which would require your consent.

We therefore recommend that you regularly consult our information notices, which are subject to change and adaptation.

COOKIES DO WE USE?

The cookies we use for the operation of the site and for which we provide you with legal information are the following:

Cookie	Type ↑↓	Description	Duration
